Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart

Issue 20 December 2025

Junior Academic Awards 2025

On Thursday 4 December we honoured not just academic success, but the effort, growth, and resilience that each Year 9 and 10 student has shown throughout the year. Prize giving is a moment to pause and reflect, not only on what has been achieved, but on what is possible. My theme at prize giving was simple: showing up. Showing up isn't just about being physically present, it is about being engaged, being open to learning, and being willing to try, even when things are hard. Every day you walk through the gates of Sacred Heart College you are making a choice, and that choice matters.

Attendance matters. It is the foundation of success. When you show up consistently, you give yourself the chance to grow, to connect, and to discover what you are capable of. Every lesson missed is a missed opportunity, not just to learn, but to be part of something bigger than yourself.

It is interesting to note that the students receiving top awards today all had attendance above 90%. That's not a coincidence. Being at school every day matters. Attend today – achieve tomorrow.

Last week, I was challenged with an idea that really stayed with me: most of us are not scared of failing, we are scared of succeeding. Success means stepping out of your comfort zone, taking risks, and embracing change. At prize giving we acknowledged the brave – those who kept showing up, who tried, who grew, and who supported others along the way. Especially when it was hard.

So as we celebrate those who have excelled, let us also celebrate the quiet victories: the student who kept showing up even when it was tough, the one who found their voice, the one who helped others succeed, the one who always chose kindness, the one who gave their best.

To our Year 9 and 10 students – your journey is just beginning. Keep showing up. Keep choosing growth. Keep believing in your potential.

Ngā mihi nui – congratulations to all of you. Mrs Katrina Kerr-Bell Principal
